Supporters who make a life-income or estate gift to SFC become honored members of the Foothill Heritage Circle. As a member of this honored giving Circle you will help ensure that the lands you care about are protected long after you are gone. One of the greatest gifts you can leave is one that transcends generations by carrying on the legacy of your conservation and community values.

Planned giving is one of the ways that SFC ensures the organization's durability and growth into the future. It is also a practical way to donate and support local land conservation efforts with considerable tax benefits to you, the donor.

Conservation Heroes

NORMA MASTIN

The Mastin Ranch Preserve was willed to SFC as a planned gift by Norma Mastin who passed away in 2018. Norma was a longstanding member of SFC who connected strongly with SFC's mission. A lifelong devotee to open space and wildlife habitat protection, Norma chose to include SFC in her estate planning knowing that a gift to SFC meant that her love of the land would continue to give back for generations to come.

BEA AND KEVIN OLSEN

"The management team at SFC has demonstrated over time that our contributions are spent wisely, judiciously, and effectively. SFC conserves lands in a practical fashion that recognizes some can be used for economic purposes while simultaneously protecting them for future generations. We support SFC to conserve regional lands in perpetuity with private landowners and government agencies via conservation easements and fee-titled acquisitions. We also truly appreciate SFC's impactful outdoor programming that connects school aged youth to the outdoors. For these reasons we have included SFC in our estate planning."
